

Words cannot express the delight,
That I feel whenever I see her might,
She's strong, powerful, brilliant and smart,
And she's talented at drawing art,
Trying to remember what I first fell in love with,
My admiration of her humanity, I love it,
And someone as amazing as she is,
Would be proud but she's modest,
And she's honest and kind,
Always has her loved ones in mind,
One of a kind and unique,
Polite and likeable to all she meets,
I regard her above royalty,
And treat her like a celestial deity,
You would too if you shared her time,
And wonder why it doesn't cost a dime,
We laugh and play for she's a child at heart,
And moments with her make my heart alight,
With arguments aplenty, I accept defeat,
She's mighty and you'll kneel too at her feet.

(Wrote this with One Step Forward, Three Steps Back by Olivia Rodrigo playing in my head.)

