

Remember me, I hope you will,
Remember the way I made you feel,
Remember the words I said,
That lifted you when you felt dead,
Remember, even if you choose someone else,
That I'm the one who loves you best,
Remember how I'm always there for you to lean on,
A firm support, your own personal moron, Remember what you saw when you stared into my eyes,
A desperate soul, with which yours shares ties,
Remember the differences between me,
And those, lost, who hurt thee,
Remember how you cured my sadness,
Do not forget the joy and gladness,
We experience it together,
Remember me forever.
